

FOOTBALL GAME INTERESTS ALL

Wisconsin and Michigan Struggling for Supremacy on the Gridiron Today.

MUCH DOUBT OVER THE RESULT

Both Teams Are at the Top Notch of Training--The Game of the Year for Western Enthusiasts.

(Special to The Gazette.)
Camp Randall, Madison, Wis., Oct. 29.—Wisconsin versus Michigan. The field is crowded with enthusiasts. On one side the Michigan colors are predominant and on the other the cardinal. The Badger band and the Wolverine band are vying with each other to see who can make the most din. The crowd is good natured and the weather ideal. The Michigan rooters arrived shortly before one. They marched up town headed by their band, making a gala appearance. Then they scattered for dinner and as soon as this was disposed of, the field before one of the crowd began to arrive on the field. The appearance is that of an amphitheatre. Reserved seats and bleachers enclose the gridiron entirely. Here the battle is to be fought. Yost and his scoring machine arrived before twelve and went to the Park hotel where they were met by an anxious crowd of Badgers who wanted to size the team up. After dinner and a short rest the men donned their football togs and drove to the field. They are now in the dressing room receiving their last instruction from Yost. There is little betting. That is not openly. Talk is that several good sized wagers have been laid down on Wisconsin scoring. The fraternities are rushed. Every seat at their tables are filled with guests here for the game. The Janesville crowd has just come on the field. The bands are now playing rag time and the big steam engine of the varsity engineers is tooting away a few preliminary toots to see if all is in order.
Camp Randall, 2:30 p. m.—The teams will line up as printed in the Gazette Thursday. Wren, Darby, and Lieutenant Hackett of Ft. Sheridan, are the officials. Both teams are new on the field and the crowd is yelling like mad. Both teams are playing and a perfect wave of color. The maize and blue supporters are all hunched. Yost looks happy; has same old smile. Teams are lining up. Steam traction engine is making a deafening noise; anywhere from twelve to twenty thousand on the grounds.
Michigan Scores
3:00 p. m.—Michigan kicked off. After several hard plays Michigan secured the ball and by series of mass plays scored touchdown. Score: Michigan, 6; Wisconsin, 0.
First Half Ends
Camp Randall, 3:15 p. m.—First half ended; ball in Wisconsin territory; score, 6 to 0. Just announced Minnesota-Nebraska first half ends: Minnesota, 11; Nebraska, 6.

Cleveland has discovered a striking similarity between the weak, vacillating timid and "dignified" Buchanan and Parker. Parker, if elected would be equally irresolute and incapable.

JAPANESE STATE ABSOLUTE FACTS

Have Not Purchased Any Torpedo Vessels of England Since the War Began.

(Special by Scripps-McLain.)
Tokio, Oct. 29.—It is officially announced the Japanese have not purchased or ordered a single torpedo boat from England since the war began.

HAS CONCESSION IN ABYSSINIA NOW

William B. Ellis, New York Broker, Returns From Trip to King Menelik.

(Special by Scripps-McLain.)
New York, Oct. 29.—William B. Ellis, a New York broker, who accompanied F. Kent Loomis on his ill-fated mission to King Menelik of Abyssinia, returned today on the steamship Philadelphia. He refused to give any statement regarding the death of Loomis or the Abyssinian treaty. He said he would give a full statement regarding the treaty after he had reported to the president. He said personally he had been given full concessions for all the diamond mines in Abyssinia and two hundred thousand acres of land on the Nile to experiment in cotton growing. He added: "I shall establish a royal bank of Abyssinia and control the financial affairs of the country."

RUSSIAN WAS NOT CAUGHT NAPPING

Baltic Squadron Was Ready to Attack the English if It Was Necessary.

(Special by Scripps-McLain.)
Vigo, Oct. 29.—Admiral Rojestvensky received two bulky dispatches this morning. It is reported some of the Russian ships are to leave here immediately. One of the officers of the fleet said this morning previous to news of the settlement of the Anglo-Russian dispute the Baltic fleet had made every preparation to engage the British fleet in battle. "We prepared ourselves to issue forth to a glorious death."

WILDER ESTATE GOES TO POOR

Supreme Court at St. Paul Decides the Famous Will Valid.

St. Paul, Minn., Oct. 29.—The Supreme court has decided that the Wilder will, which provided for a trust or corporation to take charge of the late Mrs. Fanny Wilder's estate and, including that of her daughter, the late Mrs. Appleby, valued at about $3,000,000 was valid. The provision of the will which was attacked established a trust for the maintenance of a charity to aid the worthy poor of St. Paul. The court says in upholding the will: "The will here in controversy is valid as an executory devise to a corporation to be organized in the future to furnish relief and charity to the worthy poor of the city of St. Paul. It is not an evasion of the laws of the state relating to trusts."

Ohio State Prison Under Fire.

Columbus, Ohio, Oct. 29.—Albert English, a former convict, has made sensational charges of barbarity against the officials of the state penitentiary before the probate court in Cleveland. He declares prisoners are tortured.

MARINETTE WENT JEFFRIS CRAZY

Edward Scofield and M. G. Jeffris Capture Stephenson's Stronghold.

Marinette, Oct. 29.—Nominee for Governor Edward Scofield and Malcolm Jeffris captured the city of Marinette yesterday. It was a surrender such as has been seldom witnessed and when this is Stephenson's stronghold the results are surprising. Farmers, lumberjacks and all came for miles to hear the two talented men and they showed their approval in more ways than one. It was one of the most successful meetings of the present campaign.

SHIPS STOPPED FOR COAL SUPPLY

Russian Fleet is at Tangiers—Arrived There Early This Morning.

(Special by Scripps-McLain.)
Tangier, Oct. 29.—Four Russian battleships, eight torpedo-boat destroyers and five colliers arrived here last night and this morning. The vessels are coaling.

Saloonkeepers to Desert Town.

Pana, Ill., Oct. 29.—After Nov. 1 there will be a strike among the saloonkeepers of Pana. Their licenses expire and the saloon men have unanimously agreed to take out no license under the ordinance recently passed.

Confesses to Murder.

South McAlester, I. T., Oct. 29.—Silas Hunsicker, preacher, formerly of Missouri, pleaded guilty to the murder of his wife here. His wife was found dead with her throat cut. Jealousy had been his motive.

DRINKING BOUT ENDS IN THE DEATH OF ONE OF THE MERRY PARTY.

(Special by Scripps-McLain.)

Benton Harbor, Mich., Oct. 29.—Myrtle Smith, a pretty waitress employed at the Higbee house, after a night's wild carousal following her attendance at the firemen's ball, died in fearful agony under mysterious circumstances. Her companion, Miss Jennie Leaver, has been in a precarious condition.

Later Friday afternoon an autopsy performed on the body of the dead girl under orders of the coroner revealed the fact that the stomach contained a quantity of strychnine. There is no single circumstance that points to an attempt at suicide.

Chief of Police Johnson and his officers are using every effort to ferret out the mystery and bring to light the person who gave the poison to the girls, erroneously or with malice. Two well known young men of this city are said to have been in the company of the young women during the revelry of the night. The police will not disclose their names.

Indulge In Drink.
Miss Leaver, the survivor of the affair, tells the story of the affair in a confused manner, owing to her condition. She says that the two left

KEMPF TO STAY ON THE TICKET

The State Treasurer Wins His Contention Before the Circuit Court.

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 29.—(Special.)—Judge Ludwig decided last night that John J. Kempf, former state treasurer, is the regular republican nominee, and Gov. La Follette's efforts to remove him from the state ticket have failed. After his nomination last May Kempf, under threat of arrest for being short in his accounts, was forced to resign. He resubmitted his resignation, and the court sustained him in that action. Kempf will now go on the La Follette ticket, but the La Follette men will scratch him and try to beat him. If he succeeds, the governor will again demand the enormous bond which Kempf was unable to furnish, and therefore, obliged to retire from office.

REGAL WEDDING OF MISS ASTOR

Granddaughter of Old Fur Trader Marries with Great éclat.

(Special by Scripps-McLain.)
London, Oct. 29.—The wedding of Miss Pauline Astor, daughter of William Waldorf Astor, and Capt. H. Spender-Clay, was celebrated at two this afternoon at St. Margaret's church, the bishop of London officiating. It was a brilliant affair and attended by a large and distinguished company, including Ambassador Choate, nobility, and the fashion of the English capital.

Francis Burton Harrison, democratic nominee for lieutenant governor of New York, hurried homeward from his campaign tour to greet a baby daughter born in New York city.

MIXED COURT TO ARBITRATE

Russia and Great Britain Refer the North Sea Matter to The Hague.

BALTIC FLEET TO STAY AT VIGO

Ships That Participated in the Firing on The Trawlers Are To Await the Verdict Of the Spanish Port.

(Special by Scripps-McLain.)
London, Oct. 29.—By agreement between Russia and Great Britain the North sea difficulty has been referred to a mixed international commission that will make an inquiry and give a decision under the terms of The Hague arbitration treaty. It appears, therefore, that all possibility of war between Russia and England is past, but Premier Balfour in a speech at Southampton Friday night warned the public that the crisis was not over. He said, however, that he believed peace would prevail.
The agreement to submit the case of the Baltic fleet firing on the British fishermen in the North sea to a court of arbitration was reached Friday by Lord Lansdowne, the foreign minister, and Count Benckendorf, the Russian ambassador, article 9 of The Hague convention being the basis for the agreement and inquiry.
Basis of the Agreement.
Article 9 of The Hague convention reads as follows:
"In differences of an international nature involving neither honor nor vital interests and arising from a difference of opinion on points of fact, the signatory powers recommend that the parties who have not been able to come to an agreement by means of diplomacy should, as far as circumstances allow, institute an international commission of inquiry to facilitate a solution of these differences, by elucidating the facts by means of an impartial and conscientious investigation."
Already Great Britain is informed that Russia has ordered that part of the Baltic fleet that participated in the firing in the North sea to remain at Vigo, Spain. It probably will lie there till the commission is chosen and has taken the testimony of the men concerned. The testimony of the British fishermen will also be taken. It is said twenty days is the time limit fixed for the assembling of the commission. The details will be arranged by Lord Lansdowne, and Ambassador Benckendorf.
Admiral Bridge as Arbitrator.
The Daily Express asserts that Admiral Sir Cyprian Bridge will be one of the British representatives on the commission to inquire into the North sea affair, which, the Express adds, will sit at Vigo under neutral chairmanship. The Russian ships will anchor off Vigo and Admiral Beresford has been ordered to station the channel squadron there during the sittings of the commission.
The opinions of the press on the settlement, as announced by Mr. Balfour, are by no means unanimous. The opposition journals welcome it as a great victory for the principles of conciliation and arbitration and all express relief that the danger of war has been avoided; but regarding the manner of arriving at an arrangement seems greatly waver.

While the Daily Mail hails it in the biggest type caption as "Russia's surrender," the more thoughtful papers and those devoted to the government interests are much less pleased. The Standard declares that Mr. Balfour's statement will be received by the majority of Englishmen with a sense of profound disappointment.
Laments the Fuss.
"Russia," the Standard says, "has given way a little, but we have given way more. With resounding emphasis, with the movements of great fleets and all the impressive preliminaries of war, it was made known that England would have redress or fight. But a compromise has been accepted. If this was all that was intended we need not have made so much fuss."
"The whole business comes to a very lame and impotent conclusion that does not greatly redound to the honor and dignity of the country."
Other conservative papers similarly complain that Great Britain is now debarred from all action, apparently without any guarantee as to what portion of the second Pacific fleet will be allowed to continue its journey and only Russia's promise as protection against such incidents as the North sea affair. Much criticism is bestowed on what is considered the unnecessary eulogies the premier passed on Emperor Nicholas and his government and the fact that Mr. Balfour ridiculed and disavowed "against" the Russian admiral, whose conduct he had consented to refer to an international tribunal.

The Daily Telegraph dwells with gratitude on the "judicious and honorable part" which it believes M. Delcasse, the French foreign minister, and Ambassador Cambon played in "this most welcome settlement."

Russian Envoy is Pleased.
Ambassador Benckendorf, who has been working day and night, expressed the greatest pleasure over the result, which he considers honorable to both nations. Until Premier Balfour spoke the ambassador said, he was bound to silence, and hence much misinformation had pervaded the British press, which had reiterated the statement that Russia had given no reply to the British note. While all the furore was going on, chiefly owing to the public belief that Russia had refused to apologize, diplomatic negotiations had been proceeding smoothly.
Count Benckendorf said that never at any time did Foreign Minister Lansdowne express the belief that a pacific settlement was not attainable or endeavor to secure a settlement by rolled manœuvres.

SIXTY MINERS SUFFOCATE IN A BIG COLORADO MINE

No Nopes That Any of Them Can Be Rescued...Bodies Lost for Some Days.

Trinidad, Colo., Oct. 29.—Between thirty and sixty men were killed in an explosion at mine No. 3 of the Rocky Mountain Fuel and Iron company at Terolo, forty miles west of here.
The explosion, supposed to be of mine dust, converted the mine into a veritable volcano, and every soul who was in the mine undoubtedly is dead.
There is some confusion as to how many were at work, and as the mine is burning in all likelihood the bodies will be cremated.
The explosion was preceded by a low, rumbling sound, resembling an earthquake, which made the earth tremble and startled the whole camp. Out of the mouth of the tunnel and two air shafts came a great volume of smoke and dust, which continued for nearly a minute. Out of the two air shafts, each of which is seven feet in diameter, timbers that were from one to two feet in diameter were shot into the air and broken into splinters.

Air is Full of Debris.
Plecks of rocks were thrown over the camp for a distance of a quarter of a mile. In fact, it rained rocks, broken timbers, and all kinds of debris for fully a minute, and many people were injured by being struck with these missiles.
Immediately after the explosion, which was like a volcanic eruption, there was the wildest excitement. Women, men and children rushed to the mouth of the tunnel, and had to be brought away by miners to keep them from being killed by deadly fumes coming from the shaft.
Try to Rescue Comrades.
The mine in which the accident happened works eighty men, and it is believed, not less than sixty men were in the mine at the time.
Hundreds of men tried to get into the mine. Ready fumes overcame the rescuers frequently, but their places were immediately taken by others ready to risk their lives.
Nearly all the miners employed were Slavs. The mine was opened only a year ago and extended 2,000 feet into the hill.
Only one body was recovered, that of T. Duran, a driver, who was just entering the tunnel when the explosion happened.
A large number of mine officials left here as soon as word of the accident was received. Company doctors were picked up all along the line as well as all other available physicians.

MICHIGAN FOOTBALL TEAM

See Yost's smile? Someone has told the Michigan coach that the park where he took his team for practice yesterday afternoon was named in his honor especially for the occasion. Twenty-five school-boys were missing from their "pews" when the bell rang yesterday afternoon. They had "skipped" to see the Michigan men again at Athletic Park. The scene of the morning's signal practice. The team is standing in front of the Grand Hotel. Reading from left to right in the lower row there are: Student Manager Montgomery; Harry Hammond, who plays right end; Rheinschild, a substitute; Behlute, who plays left guard; Coach Yost; Captain Heston, who plays left half, with the ball under his arm; Quarterback Norcross, seated on one of the bleachers; Longman, the fullback; Tom Hammond, who was slated to play the right half back position as Heston's running partner; "Dabe" Carter, the 212 pound right tackle; Curtis, the 218 pound left tackle; and Trainer Keene Fitzpatrick. In the back row reading from left to right are: Clark, who was originally slated to play right half back; Schultz, the 203 pound center; Weeks, the left end; Stuart, a substitute; Garrels, Depree, Patrick, McGuffin, Ted Hammond; "Octopus" Graham, who plays right guard; and substitute Becker. The story of Michigan's success on the gridiron during the past three years is largely by the story of Flinging Yost, now recognized as one of the greatest football coaches the country has produced. Ever since his graduation from La Fayette College he has been coaching teams to victory. He has the record of never having flinched in losing team. The engagement of this man who came from no bigger college than La Fayette to take charge of the Stanford University team some years ago was looked upon by many as a disastrous move. Investigation showed, however, that he had spent his previous two years at the universities of Kansas and Nebraska. One year he had coached one team to overwhelming victory. The next year he had crossed over and neatly turned the tables. Yost might have remained at Stanford for many years had not an intercollegiate agreement interfered. He enjoys a large income—some say $20,000 a year—from coal mines in Pennsylvania and an increased offer from Michigan would tempt him away from the coast. However, conditions being as they were, he signed the $5,000 a year contract with the Wolverines and left the Palo Alto hills for all time. At the close of his first season with Michigan he pitted that team against his old pupils of Stanford in an exhibition game played at Los Angeles. Michigan won, 49 to 0. For the third time Yost had coached a team to victory and then humbled it with another team. He is a football crank if there ever was one. The man lives the game on and off the field. He haunts the campus during the season and stops the players on their way to classes, drawing diagrams on the sidewalks and plying them with questions as to what they would do in such and such a contingency. Whatever may be the outcome of this season's games, Ann Arbor wants him back next year. When asked, while here, if he would accept an offer from Pennsylvania, he said: "I am a pretty good Michigan man now." Keene Fitzpatrick the wonderful trainer who stands at the extreme right in the picture, is another of Michigan's assets. He has coached track teams to win the Western intercollegiate meet for the past four successive years, and has sent them to capture coveted honors in the east. No football team that he has trained has ever "gone stale."

MICHIGAN IS 17.

Madison, 3:55.—Michigan is now 17, Wisconsin 0. Playing is desperate. Michigan scored twice in rapid succession.
SAYS WOMEN ARE REPEATERS
Complaints Are Made in Colorado of Illegal Registration.

Pueblo, Colo., Oct. 29.—Information has been filed by District Attorney Low charging Mrs. N. E. Browne and Mrs. R. P. Ham with illegal registration. John A. Martin, Democratic candidate for state senator, sword that he saw the two women register in several voting precincts. They have not been arrested and are reported to have fled from the city.

GERMAN ARMY SEIZES AMERICAN

Illinoisan on Visit to Fatherland Impressed into Military Service.
Aurora, Ill., Oct. 29.—Friends of William McMillan, a prosperous merchant, have received word from him that, while on a visit to his old home in Germany, he was seized and "forced" into the army, despite the fact that he produced proof of his American citizenship. He will have to serve four years. An appeal probably will be made.

Big Fire at Fort Wayne.

Fort Wayne, Ind., Oct. 29.—A $20,000 fire destroyed the building of the Pottlitzer Fruit company and part of the Randall hotel.

OLD FOGY PAYS A HIGH TRIBUTE

WRITES OF THE LATE JOHN W. HOGAN AS A MAN.

THE CITY HAS LOST A FRIEND

Urges the Council to Go Slow in Appointing His Successor—Sewerage Ditch Again.

To the Editor: I cannot resist at this time to pay my humble tribute to the memory of the departed John W. Hogan, a man whose picture of knowing Marshall Hogan for many years. I found him always the same. Honest and fearless. His love and pity for the helpless and his stern disapproval of anything wrong were characteristics of the man. He was a loving and indulgent father and a friend of those who deserved a friend. Powerful in stature and physique he was as gentle as a child with the sick or wounded. Many a time I have seen him go out of his way to do a little act of kindness. To him some suffering soul. He gave him a stern and brave and a mob of drunken men and have seen him stride into the center of a disturbance and quell with a few words. John Hogan was a man whose equal is seldom found. He was a man whose courage was undaunted.

Was Well Known. Mr. Hogan was well known throughout the police world. I recently heard a mechanic who has traveled through the east tell the following story:

"I was in a saloon in Patterson, N. J., not six months ago when I overheard a conversation between two men. They were evidently tramps and had traveled a good deal. One of the men was telling of his experience here. 'Well, I got the worst trimming there I ever had. Why, that man Hogan simply beat me out of town. He gave me one chance to go and I did not leave quick enough and the next time he found me I was glad to promise never to come back.' The other man said in an undertone: 'You fool, you ought to have known better than to go to Janesville. Why, every bum on the road knows Hogan and knows enough to keep away from Janesville.' I have heard prominent democratic politicians tell of Hogan's work at the great Chicago conventions. His rare judgment and skill in handling crowds made him in demand as a sergeant at arms. I have heard of Chicago policemen who pay him high tribute as a thief catcher and there is not a city in the state that can not show evidence of his skill.

Be Careful. I have at several times taken occasion during the past few months to severely criticize the present police force. I hope I have not been misunderstood. I did not mean to criticize Mr. Hogan whom I highly respected, but the manner in which things were run in his absence. I have been informed that he has been in Janesville for the past few days. I wish I could instill a little caution into the council and urge them to go slow in appointing a successor of the late Marshall. In a later letter, I shall take up this subject in full.

Sewerage Work. The work of laying the eight-inch pipes still continues. May we not live to regret it. Book learning is a dangerous thing sometimes when one has too much of it at the expense of practical knowledge. However, let us hope for the best. Contractor Benson certainly has been favored by the weather thus far this season. Aside from the wet start and the difficulties he met with at the beginning he has done fairly well. I find him a very pleasant man and one who knows his work thoroughly. There is one man in his squad of workmen that it is a pleasure to watch. He can dig and lift in a twinkling of an eye and can ginger up his fellow workmen more than any other native of the "old sod" I have seen. He is worth his money and I understand he is paid in proportion to his work and his daily pay is nearly three times that of any other man on the job.

FIFTEEN FROM CITY BANQUET AT CLINTON

Y. M. C. A. Musicians and Speakers Had Fine Time Last Night.

The Clinton Y. M. C. A. gave its annual banquet last evening and in addition to Judge Winsor of Madison, State Secretary Anderson and Assistant State Secretary Puchler, of Milwaukee, a large delegation from Janesville graced the festive board. Hon. J. M. Whitehead and A. E. Matheson made addresses and a violin and cello duo were rendered by F. F. Lewis, president of the association, and A. S. Fates. Selections were also given by the male quartette consisting of Sec. J. C. Kline, C. S. Buck, Prof. L. W. Brooks, and Len Matthews; and the mandolin club consisting of Morris Erickson, Louis Ehringer, Edmund Ehringer and F. E. Williams. Other visitors from this city were John H. Jones, Charles L. Mohr and W. E. Clinton.

Cured of Asthma

After 35 years of Suffering.

It will be gratifying to Asthmatic readers to learn that an absolute cure has at last been discovered by Dr. Schiffmann. That the remedy is an effective one cannot be doubted after perusal of such testimony as that of C. W. Van Antwerp, Fulton, N. Y., who says: "Your remedy (Schiffmann's Asthma Cure) is the best I ever used. I bought a package of your drug and tried it and one box entirely cured me of Asthma, and I have not had it since. I can now go to bed and sleep all night with perfect comfort, which I have not done before for 35 years and I thank you for the health that I now enjoy. I hope that you will publish this letter, that others may learn of its wonderful virtues." Sold by all druggists at 25c and 50c. Send stamp to Dr. J. Schiffmann, Box 801, St. Paul, Minn., for a free sample package.

CAME HERE ON A HONEYMOON TRIP

Joseph Martin, Formerly of Janesville, and Miss Ada Harris, Wedded Thursday.

Joseph Martin, for many years a railroad man in this city, but latterly a resident of Mineral Point, and Miss Ada Harris, were married at the latter city Thursday afternoon. They arrived in Janesville yesterday on their honeymoon trip and are visiting with Mrs. Harris and Miss Ida Dobson. They will return to Mineral Point tomorrow evening.

TO COMMENCE WORK FOR THE DEBATE

Both Boys' Literary Clubs Will Elect Four Candidates—Any Scholar May Try.

Inside of the next two weeks active work will be commenced in trying out the material for the Waukesha-Janesville debate which comes off next March. The two literary societies of the boys, the Forum and the Rusk Lyceum, will each elect four debaters from their respective clubs who will try for the three regular speakers' positions on the team and that of alternate. All others in the school who wish to make this attempt of gaining the team may, if they wish, and will be given an equal chance with the members of the literary clubs. The Lyceum should gain the larger number, if not all the four places, for that club has been debating since they were first organized and the class of discussion carried on by the society is a great deal higher than it otherwise would be and in this class each member gets a constant drill. The Forum is newly organized and has thus far not entered the political discussions, consequently they will not be so well prepared to debate on this class of subject because of their lack of work in this field. Nearly all the good speakers of the school are members of either society and it is generally conceded that the two societies will furnish the four men.

LOCAL BOYS IN LITERARY CLUBS

Phil Whitehead on Inter Society Debate on State Issues—W. I. Maurer Spoke.

The several Janesville boys who are attending Beloit college are all members of either one of the literary societies there—the Cynoscopie and the Delian. Some are connected with one, some with the other, the rivalry is keen but the most friendly. Last evening for the first time this year the two societies met in debate on the most prominent topic of the day in Wisconsin—the state political controversy. Phil Whitehead, son of J. M. Whitehead, together with another member of the Cynoscopie, set forth the stalwart side and two Delians upheld the half breed contention. W. I. Maurer, who has won first in the Interstate oratorical contest, led in a successful debate with Knox and H. D. Smith, also a leader of a Beloit debating team when Beloit won from Knox, delivered addresses concerning the Knox-Beloit debates. Mr. Maurer delivered his prize oration in this city two years ago before the high school students.

FURTHER DETAILS OF HIS DEMISE

The Late John Hemingway Died a Short Time After Being Removed to Hospital.

Further information concerning the death of the late John Hemingway, whose remains will be laid to rest tomorrow afternoon in Oak Hill cemetery, have reached the city. Mr. Hemingway had not been in the best of health for several weeks, feeling rather indisposed. It was not thought that he was in a critical condition at any time until Tuesday night when suddenly he was taken with a bad spell. His friends at the hotel where he boarded thought it best to remove him to a hospital, which was done immediately, but of no avail. On the way there Mr. Hemingway gradually grew worse and became unconscious from which state he never returned, breathing his last soon after the hospital was reached. John B. Hemingway was born in this city in 1850 and resided here until about twelve years ago when he removed to Chicago where for several years he followed up his trade as a cigar-maker. From there he went to Louisville and again returned to Chicago last April. There is left to mourn his loss: a son, Hugh Hemingway of this city; two sisters, Mrs. James Goodbrand of Chicago, and Mrs. Jeannette Keeler of Omaha; and three brothers, William of Denver, Joseph of Louisville, and Thomas of Hanover.

TO MILWAUKEE AT END OF DECEMBER

State Teachers' Association Annual Meeting—Prof. Buell Will Deliver Address.

Plans are now being formulated by the teachers in the schools of the city to attend the annual meeting of the Wisconsin Teachers' association to be held in Milwaukee the last three days of December. Address on "The Methods of Teaching History." He is well prepared to speak on such a subject, having taught history in Whitewater and Janesville for several years. Mrs. Hyde, instructor of music and drawing in the city schools here, is secretary of the music department of the state organization. Several well known speakers have been obtained for the general morning sessions. Bishop J. M. Spaulding of Peoria, Ill., appointed by President Roosevelt as a member of the coal strike commission two years ago, will speak on an educational topic on the night of December twenty-ninth.

The first session will be devoted to a discussion of the material side of teachers' lives. The establishment of pensions for teachers will be one of the subjects considered. Dr. A. E. Winslow, editor of the New England Journal of Education, will speak on the necessity of good salaries for instructors in public schools as will Miss Emma Pettigill, formerly a member of the New York board of education, who was instrumental in securing an increase for teachers in that city.

The second morning session will be devoted to a discussion of conditions in Wisconsin. The principal speaker will be J. O. Kern, superintendent of schools in Winnebago county, Illinois. Mr. Kern has gained a national reputation through the advocacy of the concentration of rural schools.

George H. Maxwell of Chicago, chairman of the executive committee of the industrial league, and Prof. George Edward Vincent of Chicago will speak on the industrial aspect of school work. They are both enthusiasts over the introduction of manual training and other industrial courses in public schools. The committee on arrangements has not decided where the general sessions will be held. The membership of the association is increasing rapidly and there will probably be two hundred more teachers in attendance than last year.

Letter to Mr. Edward Donahoe, Janesville, Wis.

Dear Sir: Let's have a little private talk by ourselves on business; nobody else, please, read.

You want to know how to do a cheap job of painting, and have it look good. Here it is: The cheapest thing there is in the way of a good-looking job—say nothing about its being good—is Devco; the regular thing in Devco.

The reason is: Devco goes further than anything else. Lead-and-oil is good-looking; don't go so far, and costs more. The other paints—car more or less short in one way or another; don't go so far and costs more than Devco.

Devco costs least of all; you don't mind its lasting longer, do you? We can't help it; a paint that goes further lasts longer; we can't help it.

COUNT AND COUNTESS CASSINI The Russian ambassador has become famous during the present war in the far east as a silent diplomat. Despite the evident favoring of the Japs in the United States, Count Cassini has refused to be drawn into any counter remarks. His niece, Countess Cassini, is one of the great favorites of Washington diplomatic society.

PROMOTER HAS A NEW PROJECT NOW

Mr. Smith, Who Was Going to Buy Local Street Railway, Promoting Interurban Line.

Mr. Smith of Fond du Lac, president of the Wisconsin Traction company, who claimed to have control of the local street railway about a year ago and planned to make vast improvements in the system, is now promoting a scheme to build an electric line between Fond du Lac and Milwaukee. Mr. Smith is quoted as saying that plans for the proposed line are rapidly progressing and that he expects to have a right of way the whole distance. The route selected by the company is a little over 60 miles in length. Franchises have been granted the company for the greater part of the distance, and it is stated that construction work will begin soon. If this line is built it will be possible for people to travel between Green Bay and Milwaukee by Interurban. It will be remembered that this same Mr. Smith claimed to have secured control of the local line and under the name of the Rock River Traction company proposed to reorganize the company and equip the road throughout with new cars. He planned that cars would be running with regularity and the road-beds and tracks be repaired thoroughly and the line extended down through Forest park so as to make a loop onto the Main street line. He also said at the time that work would be commenced at once on an extension of the Milton avenue line to Milton and Milton Junction.

BUYING LULUS IN TOBACCO MARKET

General Review of Movements—Old Leaf Remnants Becoming Scarce—Weather Conditions Good.

Now the great buying movement of the season begins to show evidence of a decline and tobacco growing sections have ceased to be witnesses of great sales, indicating the first rush of the tobacco year is now over. With the fact that the hanging tobacco is in a rather dry condition as an excuse the buyers have nearly filled their orders are commencing to take their men from the field. The price of leaf has varied little during the last few months and stands on an average at the eight-cent mark. Flaying of the '03 and older crops continues and the movement of the old leaf from the growers' hands is rapidly reducing the remnants of this class of tobacco, though the prices quoted are small. Now the crop is beyond the danger of freezing and the weather is very favorable otherwise for the successful curing of the hanging crop.

START ON SPRING DELIVERIES NOW

Marzluff Shoe Company's Shop Running Full Blast—Making Shoes for Next Year.

At the Marzluff Shoe company's factory work on the spring deliveries has commenced and the plant is to be running with a full force of men and women Monday. The fitting room and cutting room where the first work on the shoe is done have been working the past week in order to gain a start on the other departments that there may be no stop at any time in any part of the shop. The traveling salesmen are returning from their first trip with next springs samples and a large influx of orders warrants the fact that the factory will run uninterruptedly during the winter, and firm says that the output will be increased but as to the number of pairs per diem are unable to state at the present.

BELOIT-LAWRENCE A CLOSE CONTEST

Most Interest in Michigan-Wisconsin Games—Other Football Competition East and West.

For the disciples of football in Janesville the absorbing topic today is the Michigan-Wisconsin game. At Beloit, one of the best games of the season, is being played, but scarcely a person unless he is a graduate of Beloit or Lawrence is heard to even mention that there is a game there. When the fact that Wisconsin never beats Beloit or Lawrence more than thirty points on the average and defeats Notre Dame by a score of 45 to 0 the game in the line city could be considered a big game. It will be a light contest, Beloit having won twice and Lawrence having won twice the same number of times in the last four years. The game is expected to result in a tie or victory for Beloit. At Madison Michigan has the advantage of Wisconsin in several ways and should win the game. At Marshall Field, Chicago should defeat Illinois by a fairly good score. In the Northwestern-DePaul game at Evanston, Northwestern should be victorious. Minnesota and Nebraska are playing at Minneapolis and the score should show Minnesota winner by a good margin. Iowa and Ames at Iowa City should be a good game but Iowa should defeat her opponents. In the Indiana and Ohio state game at Bloomington, Indiana should win though Ohio state has to look back upon the credit of scoring on Michigan and holding the Wolverines down to a low score. Naperville is expected to again be defeated today, this time by Lake Forest at Lake Forest. Knox is the favorite in the Knox-Monmouth game at Galesburg and Grinnell in the Grinnell-Drake game at Des Moines. In the east several big games are playing. Yale should win from Columbia in the game at New York. At Cambridge City should beat the Harvard-Pennsylvania game in which the result may be a surprise. Harvard should win but Pennsylvania may spring a surprise and come off the field with flying colors. Princeton is expected to be victorious over Cornell in the contest at Ithaca. Annapolis over Swarthmore at Annapolis. Carlisle over Virginia at Charlottesville, Va. Georgetown over Holy Cross at Philadelphia, and Dickinson over Lehigh at Lehigh.

For Return Game: On Bunker hill tomorrow afternoon the second yard football eleven will play a team from Rockford and if possible a return game to be played a week from Sunday at the Forest city will be arranged.

THE VALUE OF CHARCOAL.

Few People Know How Useful It Is in Preserving Health and Beauty.

Nearly everybody knows that charcoal is the safest and most efficient disinfectant and purifier in nature, but few realize its value when taken to the human system for the same cleansing purpose. Charcoal is a remedy that the most you take of it the better; it is not a drug at all, but simply absorbs the gases and impurities always present in the stomach and intestines and carries them out of the system. Charcoal sweetens the breath after smoking, drinking or after eating onions and other odorous vegetables. Charcoal effectively clears and improves the complexion, it whitens the teeth and further acts as a natural and eminently safe cathartic. It absorbs the injurious gases which collect in the stomach and bowels; it disinfects the mouth and throat from the poison of catarrh. All druggists sell charcoal in one form or another, but probably the best charcoal and the most for the money is in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges; they are composed of the finest powdered Willow charcoal, and other harmless antiseptics in tablet form, or rather in the form of large pleasant tasting lozenges, the charcoal being mixed with honey. The daily use of these lozenges will soon tell in a much improved condition of the general health, better complexion, sweeter breath and purer blood, and the beauty of it is, that no possible harm can result from their continued use, but on the contrary, great benefit. A Buffalo physician in speaking of the benefits of charcoal, says, "I advise Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges to all patients suffering from gas on the stomach and bowels, and to clear the complexion and purify the breath mouth and throat; I also believe the liver is greatly benefited by the daily use of them; they cost but twenty-five cents a box at drug stores, and although in some sense a patent preparation, yet I believe I get more and better charcoal in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges than in any ordinary charcoal tablets."

To the druggist, sir, said she, You see my complexion is getting bad I need some Rocky Mountain Tea. —Smith Drug Co.

FACTORY CAN NOW BE KEPT WARMER

The Western Shoe Company Repairs Heating Plant—Employees Were Smoked, or Frozen Out Before.

From the present outlook the Western Shoe Company expects that their factory will be working at full capacity through the cold months and now have on hand more orders than they are able to fill promptly. During the last week they have had considerable trouble with the heating apparatus and for three days the factory had to be closed while the old boiler was being repaired and put in shape to furnish enough heat with less smoke, the help being unable to do the work properly on account of the cold or the smoke. Now everything has been adjusted and a large number of orders on hand clearly demonstrates that the factory will not have to cease operations on account of lack of something to do.

A new machine for the building of heels, which have hitherto been purchased outside, is being installed and from now on not only the trimming but the manufacture of this portion of the shoe will be done in the local factory.

HELEN KELLER AT THE WORLD'S FAIR.
As was expected, "Helen Keller Day," October 18th, at the St. Louis Fair, was an unusual demonstration. It is the first time in the history of an American fair that any special day has been set apart for an individual. All nations will do honor to this remarkable woman, whose emancipation from misfortune has no peer in the whole century. Miss Keller's autobiography, "The Story of My Life," has been translated into seven languages, and is now being translated into others. It has been called the most remarkable human document of the nineteenth century.

...Forty Years Ago...

Janesville Daily Gazette, October 29, 1864.—Five Dollars Fine For Driving Faster Than a Walk.—There has come to be a general disregard of the ordinance prohibiting driving on the bridges in the city faster than a walk, and as a natural consequence the structures are able to show the unmistakable evidence of such abuse in quivering frames and weakening abutments. In view of this fact the common council has empowered Mr. H. A. Vorseberg to arrest every man violating the ordinance, even though he should trot his team only a few feet. Let all bear this in mind then and if they find themselves mulcted in five dollars damages, thank themselves and not charge that they have not received fair warning.

Illness of Mr. J. B. Doe.—We are pained to learn that our fellow citizen, Mr. J. B. Doe, is quite ill. He had an attack of lung fever some time ago but recovering from that sufficiently to be up on the streets again, when he took cold and was taken down a second time.

PATRON IS PARALYZED BY SHOCK FROM PHONE
Indianapolis Man Rests Chin on Instrument of Rival Line While Making a Call.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 29.—James Adams of 1624 Cornell avenue is lying in a paralyzed condition at his home as the result of an electric shock received from a telephone he was using in the office of a local coal company.

He was standing at a desk on which were two telephones, the New and the Central Union phones. He first used the Central Union phone, and not succeeding in getting his number, tried the New phone.

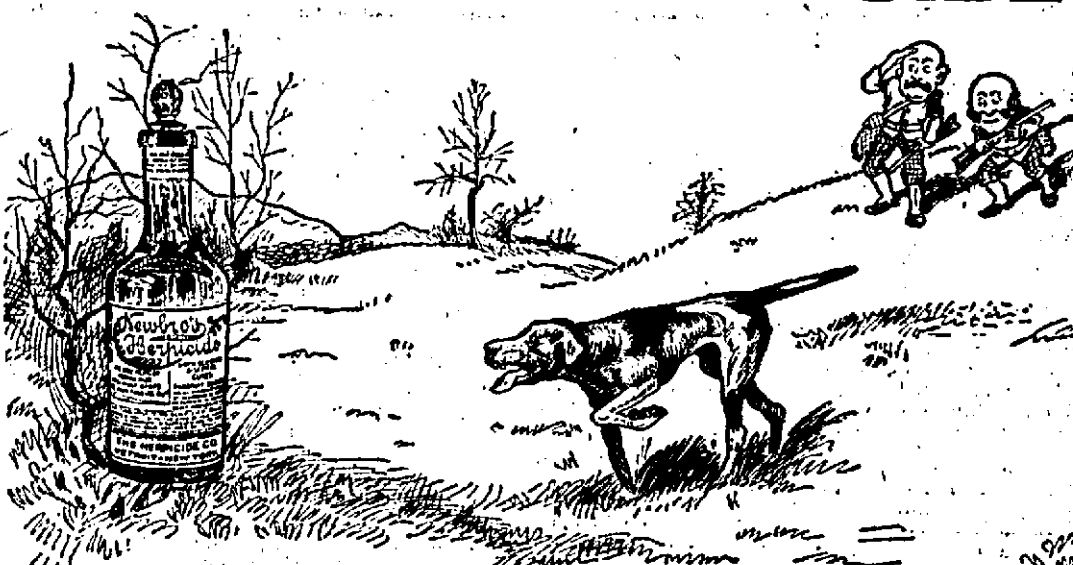

Adams took the receiver, and while waiting for his number, rested his chin on the top of the Central Union phone. A shock resulted that rendered him unconscious.

He was soon revived, but when an attempt was made to move him it was discovered that he was paralyzed from his waist to his feet.

NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE

THE HUNTERS CAME TOO LATE!

Their Faithful Dog has Pointed Out the True Remedy to Prevent Baldness, but the Hunters Came too Late—Chronic Baldness is incurable.

Herpicide a "Hair-Saver."

Newbro's Herpicide saves the hair by destroying the germ or microbe that is now known to be the cause of dandruff, falling hair and baldness. In chronic baldness the hair follicles are completely atrophied, causing the scalp to shrink and shine; little can be done in such cases except to save the remaining "fringe," and this is well worth saving, for it offers some protection against the cold.

The "Hair Grower" is a fallacy. It requires but a slight knowledge of Anatomy to know that the hair gets its life and strength from the hair-papilla at the bottom of the hair follicle, and the papilla in turn gets its nourishment direct from the blood; therefore nature is the only true hair grower. There are enemies of hair growth that cause hair loss and baldness: invisible microbes grow in the sebaceous glands, situated at the top of the hair follicles (Dr. Sabouraud, of Paris, says the microbe usually enters the scalp in youth), where one colony after another is established, until finally after months and sometimes years, there is dandruff, itching scalp and falling hair.

The Sebum also solidifies, causing dry, lustreless and brittle hair. Destroy this microbe growth with Newbro's Herpicide and protect the hair against re-infection, and it will grow as nature intended.

A Healthy Hair.

J.M. BOSTWICK & SONS.

It is Underwear?

WE are selling an enormous lot of winter underwear, although we have really had no cold weather. There is a reason for it! One comes here expecting to see the largest and most complete stock, expects to find just the desired weight, style and size, whether for a woman, miss, girl, boy, or small child—Suits or Separate Pieces. Our stock of men's underwear consists of the very best shirts and drawers made to sell at 40c, 50c, $1.00, 1.25, 1.50 and $2.00. Munsing Suits at $2.00, $3.00, $4.50. Fine Balbriggan Suits at $1.50.

MEN looking for the very best values will do well to call and get posted.

The Great Munsing line of Underwear can be found here, almost everybody who can read knows about The Munsing Underwear.

The Perfect Lewis Underwear—Women in quest of a superior grade of underwear, especially union suits, at once recognize the excellence of the Lewis Garments. The Janesville Agency for the Lewis Underwear for women, misses, children we have taken.

SPECIAL ORDERS—All special orders for Lewis Garments are taken by us and the factory turns them out promptly. We have samples of the full line and a woman can select just what is wanted and have special measures taken; thus insuring a perfect fit.

The Sterling Suits are very fine garments, made of mercerized cotton yarn, extra heavy, at $3.50 and $3.75.

Union Suits for Children have grown in popular favor and we show excellent suits at 50c, $1.00, $1.50.

Women's Swiss Ribbed vests and pants, sizes 4 to 8, in vegasilk $1.00, merino $1.25, silk and wool $1.50, pure silk $3.00, silk suits $6.50—made by Julius Kayser of double finger tip glove fame.

Dr. Jaeger's Sanitary Wool Underwear we carry in stock for women, men, children. Highly recommended for rheumatics. It does the work.

Special Weights—All the light and in-between weights are here; can satisfy any demand.

Corset Covers—Knit corset covers occupy a prominent place in an up-to-date underwear stock.

We show garments that know no competition at 25c, 50c, 65c, 85c and fine wool $1.25. The larger the claims of other houses hereabouts about showing the largest stock of underwear, the more they advertise The Big Store. People wink the other eye and think of South Main street and this store's underwear department.

OUR SATURDAY NIGHT.

Reference was made in these columns two or three weeks ago, to a little paper called the "Jackboe," published by Robert V. Carr, at Whitewood, South Dakota.

The publication is an eight-page monthly, neatly printed and filled with quaint sayings and wise maxims. The October number has the following, which is breezy and well worth reading:

Not long ago a squadron of cavalry was encamped near Whitewood. One of the officers approached a sergeant and gave an order. The sergeant saluted and walked swiftly away to execute the order. A large, overgrown town youth standing near me remarked: "I'd like to see some one make me jump that way." I did not say anything, but thought of what would have been done to the youth had he been in the service. There are ways and means in the army of making men out of lumps of clay.

Instant obedience is required in the army, and the man who succeeds in civil life will obey the orders of his employer as the soldier obeys the orders of his superior officer. The youth who made the above remark will never succeed. In the first place he is full of silly pride; in the second place he does not know the value of prompt obedience to orders; in the third place he has too many opinions of his own and too little worth to back them up.

Instant obedience to orders is required in the army for this reason: Five minutes delay may change victory into defeat. We will suppose that the general is up on a hill watching the battle. He calls up an aide and gives him a message to carry to a colonel in command of a regiment of reserves. The general sees a weak point in the enemy's line and he wants to throw a fresh regiment against that weak point. The aide, having opinions of his own and not being impressed with the beauty of instant obedience, takes his time in carrying that message. In five minutes the enemy has brought up reinforcements for that weak point and made it the strongest part of the line. The aide reaches the colonel of the reserve regiment, the colonel is promptly obedient, and hurries his men against the enemy. The enemy, being reinforced, scatters the reserve regiment, follows up the advantage and the tide of battle turns, for the simple reason that the aide did not render instant obedience. Had Stakelberg rendered instant obedience to Kuropatkin's orders he would not have come so near being cut off at Liao-Yang. Stakelberg had opinions of his own.

In civil life an employer cannot stop to explain to an employee why a certain order is given. It is none of an employee's business to know the reason of an order. His business is to immediately obey.

So many of the present generation of young Americans do not understand the value of obedience. They think it shows servility to swiftly do what they are told. They take their own time and the result is that their employers soon find men, who obey orders instantly, to take their places. Invariably these young men are failures. They are continually changing vocations. They are constantly seeking some place where they will not have to instantly obey orders. The result is that they become absolutely worthless. In the army they would be knocked in shape, and I sometimes think that if this country made military service compulsory it would be a great thing for many of the proud and pretty cigarette flenders adorning the corners of the streets of our towns and villages.

When an employer sees a young man who instantly executes his orders he knows that that young man can be depended on. Sooner or later that young man has men under him. Sooner or later he becomes an employer. Instant obedience to orders is respectfulness to superiors and an interest in the business of his employer will put any young man of average intelligence at the top of the ladder.

To go back to that sergeant of cavalry. How did he become a sergeant? By always obeying orders promptly. And from what I learned of that particular sergeant he will be an officer some day.

This is a lesson that many a young American has to learn.

The other day I picked up a magazine containing an article from the pen of a lady with a worm-fence name. She talked about love and the all and the whiteness of the whiteness and the whiteness of the whiteness.

She lapsed along about the ego and the higher life and the dream that don't come true.

I read that article and then I went up to Deadwood and talked with an old prospector. He had never heard of the whiteness of the whiteness and had never had his soul curried combed in all his life. But he was very glad to see me and he crushed my hand and looked at me with kind twinkling eyes.

One time this prospector—we will call him Bill—was out on a trip with another prospector—we will call him Tom. Tom got sick and grub got low. Bill starved and carried Tom many miles. That's all. Only when Tom died Bill cried. Further, Bill has been "sending" all the money he could rake and scrape to Tom's sister in the east.

It is of course not necessary to say that Bill never met Tom's sister. But Bill never heard of the whiteness of the whiteness, and knows absolutely nothing about the ego in his cosmos. But if it came to an everlasting cinch with death and destruction in the path, I'd tie to Bill. The reason? Well, Bill would be there and he'd stay. But Bill don't know much about the higher life.

Away back in the days that used to be I knew a quaint old character by the name of Waite. Waite was absolutely the most contented man I ever saw. He spoke softly, smoked quietly and lived in a little cabin over on Rapid creek. Waite used profanity. I might say, but it was harmless and almost sweet. He could swear and cause no offense whatever. His was a calm kind of a profanity. It carried no tincture of cussedness, so to speak.

Waite used to walk calmly down the canon and gaze at the beauties of nature. A day like today bathed his soul in content. There was grub in the cabin, tobacco and a book to read, and what more could you ask for?

I used to ask Waite if he cared for money. He would immediately change the subject. Money was distasteful to him. He merely made enough to supply his simple wants. I asked him if he cared for women. He laughed a laugh and told of the child who being once burned left the stove alone. I asked him if he cared for power. He looked at me and said: "Wouldn't know what to do with it if I had it. All I want is to be left alone."

Yet I can't say I admired Waite's character. Being of a different stripe I courted other kinds, but now I wish I had a hunch of his content. Wonder if Waite is dead? If he is, he is probably contented. He is undoubtedly occupying a quiet nook in paradise and smiling calmly at the rushing crowd who are bothering St. Peter most to death with kicks about the location of their seats. Most likely St. Peter took a look at Waite's calm and quiet face and remarked, "Any place in the house; you don't need any ticket."

There is a great deal of hunting around after new doctrines and new ideas and new thought, but after all there is only one path, and that is the old, straight path. Old-fashioned virtue is the only thing. You can grub around in the nooks and crannies trying to find something to rest on, but you get right back to the old proposition: "Whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap."

It seems to me that the world would get tired of all this running after new ideas. Men have tried to do evil things and escape the penalty, but they have never done it. Men have tried to get something for nothing, but they have never done it.

Then, why not settle right down and cultivate that which we absolutely know is good? This reaching out after something that melts in the hand like a tinted bubble is not going to do us any good. We know that, and we know that in the reaching we waste a lot of energy that would bring results if applied to the things near at hand.

Carlyle said: "Our grand business in life is not to see what lies dimly at a distance, but to do what lies clearly at hand."

You can never outgrow honesty, you can never outgrow honor, you can never become so developed intellectually that you are above speaking a kind word to a dog. Don't ever think that you can get out of the sphere of old-fashioned virtues. The thing to do is not to dream, for dreams fade and there are no results. Work, common every-day work; good deeds, common every-day good deeds; kind words, common every-day kind words—these are the things that fill the storehouse with yellow wheat. And the sooner one realizes that they and they alone are the only things worth while, the sooner will the light illuminate the soul.

Men have been running around on this earth for a long time and no one has found any path to real happiness but that trail known as the Way of Good Deeds. Along this trail bloom the flowers of hope and on them falls the gentle rain of human kindness. It is the only way.

PRESS COMMENT.

Wausau Record: If Russian ships keep on opening United States official mail, we might open something stronger than a mail pouch-ourselves.

Racine Journal: That Neenah school teacher who kicked a small boy in the stomach for some misdemeanor, or paid his fine all right and will think the matter over.

Chicago Tribune: Gen. Miles says the country is now at the parting of the ways. If the general will keep on looking at the country he probably will see it take the main traveled road.

PASSED THROUGH AT TEN-THIRTY

Excursion with Three Hundred Michigan Rooters Accompanied by University Band.

It is estimated that the special train that passed through the city at 10:30 this morning over the North-Western road carried six hundred people to the game at Madison. There were three hundred rooters who left Ann Arbor accompanied by the university band of twenty-five pieces, who with horns and drums and voices will attempt to help win the game for the maize and blue. The train was scheduled to come through at 11:40 but the time was changed shortly before they left Chicago this morning. The excursionists will return over the St. Paul line. The team was taken up on a special over the St. Paul at 10:30 and will pass through the city over the North-Western tomorrow morning at about 9:20.

SAVINGS BANK AT LIMA IS COMPELLED TO CLOSE

Inability to Meet Clearings Brings About Suspension—Promise to Pay in Full.

Lima, O., Oct. 29.—The Lima Savings Bank and Trust Company failed to open its doors Friday because of inability to meet its clearings and because of the demand by a local banking house that it immediately put up $3,000 on rediscounted paper.

The stock of the concern, which is $50,000, is largely held in Toledo. The president, W. W. Leighton, was there trying to raise money to pay depositors and in the afternoon wired that he had made arrangements to that end and would return to satisfy all.

The last statement of the bank, issued on May 11, 1904, showed the total resources to be $109,346; total liabilities, $109,846.

To Pay Depositors.
Toledo, O., Oct. 29.—It was stated here that J. N. Dewey, father-in-law of Cashier W. W. Leighton and president of the Lima Savings Bank and Trust Company, for which a temporary receiver was appointed at Lima, would give limited aid so that all depositors would be paid in full and the bank go into voluntary bankruptcy.

Mr. Dewey is ill and could not be seen, but it is said negotiations now pending would be completed at once for the settlement as stated.

GEORGE K. NASH DROPS DEAD

Former Governor of Ohio Dies of Heart Disease at Home of Stepdaughter.
Columbus, O., Oct. 29.—Former Gov. George K. Nash dropped dead Friday morning in the bathroom at the home of his stepdaughter, Mrs. Worthington E. Babcock.

Mr. Nash had been in ill health for over a year, having been stricken with heart trouble and other complications while governor of Ohio.

Friday morning Mr. Nash arose late and went to the bathroom, when he was heard to fall, and life was extinct when the family reached the room.

George K. Nash was born in Medina county, Ohio, Aug. 4, 1842. He was elected judge of the supreme court of Ohio in 1883. He was elected governor of Ohio in 1900 and in 1902, serving two terms.

During the war of the rebellion he served as a private in company C, 150th O. V. I., of which the late Senator Hanna was the first sergeant. Mr. Nash leaves no family.

Y. M. C. A. Meeting: Special for men at the Y. M. C. A. building tomorrow at 3 p. m. Prof. John Arbuthnot will speak on the topic "Human Blindness." These meetings are informal and helpful. About 35 Janesville men are regular attendants; others come often. It is the plan during the winter months to have something of profit for this hour from 3 to 4 and all men in the city have a most cordial invitation to give their presence and influence to this special meeting in the interest of men. Special music each Sunday.

Kills Wife, Then Himself.
Des Moines, Iowa, Oct. 29.—A double tragedy was enacted by William Peddicord when he beat his wife with a club. She cannot recover. The husband then went into a cornfield and shot himself through the heart.

Breaks Up Happy Family.
A magpie named "Bob Fitzsimmons" which assaulted every newcomer in the "happy family" of which he was a member in a cage at the zoological gardens, London, was found almost torn to pieces the other morning. Evidently he had been the victim of a general attack, but the exact circumstances will never be known, as "even the parrots refuse to say a word."

Going to school this winter?
Better?
Did you see a man who regretted his learning?
No.
You know a lot of them who are sorry they don't know more though, don't you?
In a few years you are going to either be sorry you DID NOT go to school or glad you DID, aren't you?
Which is it going to be?
Maybe you know, we don't. That depends upon you.
Make up your mind.
If you don't decide soon. Time will decide for you.
Better go before it is too late.
The longer you wait the harder it is to get started.

Cash course handy, doesn't it?
Then better learn something that brings Cash.
Some schools don't teach anything of this kind, do they?
Then why not go to one that does?
Business Colleges teach Shorthand and Bookkeeping.
When you learn these you can start for from $9 to $15 per week.
Pretty good isn't it?
Just how much depends principally upon you.
That's fair isn't it?
You'd make good, wouldn't you?
It only takes from Four to Six months to take either of these courses and only from Nine to Eleven to take both of them.
Reasonable, isn't it?
Some Business Colleges are better than others. Much better.
It would be advisable to go to a good one, wouldn't it?
Do you know anything about the Beloit Business College?
Heard of it, haven't you?
Well, it is pretty good.
It has all Male teachers.
They're best, don't you think?
It's bookkeeping department is all Actual Business.
That's more interesting than copying from text-books, don't you think?
When you complete the preliminary business practice, you pass through Eight offices. All the students deal with you: you manage the office and keep the books.
That's good practice for you, isn't it?
Interesting, too.
The Shorthand Department here is better than it used to be.
All business men want stenographers with experience, don't they?
Don't know?
Well, you'll notice it when you go to take a position.
If you want to accept a position, you would feel more confident, and would make a much better showing if you were only required to do work you had been doing every day, wouldn't you?
You do all the work here that you have to do in an office. We have fitted up an office in which every one of our pupils is given actual office experience before leaving the school.
That's sensible, isn't it?
Better than leaving the class room and trying to hold a position, don't you think?

It costs something to go to school usually.
You probably wonder how much.
Well, that depends upon where you go.
You would hardly get better instruction just because you paid high prices for board, would you?
In Beloit your board would cost you $2.00 per week.
In other places it would cost at least $3.50 per week.
Suppose you come to Beloit and save at least $1.50 per week.
That's a saving of $60.
Right, isn't it?
A Shorthand course costs $40.
Bookkeeping costs $40.

Both costs only $65.
This means a complete course, and ALL studies are included.
When you get through you want a position, don't you?
Well, we get you one.
We don't say "Maybe," or that we will "assist" you; but WE GET IT.
Some so called Business College men say, "No school can consistently tell its students that."
Well, when we can't we will go out of the business.
When we enroll sensible people, we can get them positions.
If we can't, what is the use of your coming here to school?
If we can't find a position for you, you can't find one for yourself, and that's a fact.
You would not spend money learning something, you did not know to a certainty would furnish you with profitable employment, would you?
Not if you were sane and sober.
Then why don't all schools get positions for students?
There are just two reasons, and ONLY TWO.
One is that such schools are not in a position to furnish the necessary facilities to educate their pupils thoroughly enough to get them ready for positions.
The other is that it costs money to keep posted on where the positions are, and these "pennywise and pound foolish" people figure that it is economy to let pupils do without places or get them themselves.
It isn't thought.
Of course some young people will attend such schools, but most of them will go elsewhere.
Such schools usually have from ten to forty pupils.
And they never get any larger.
Don't let anybody bluff you into the idea that they can't agree to get you a position, "Because they are honest."
They will tell you in the same breath, "We don't agree to get positions, but we always got them." We never have a student leave without a position.
Now a man of this kind must have a peculiar idea of the fitness of things, don't you think?
Has secured positions for all his pupils in the past, but can't agree to get you one. Funny isn't it?
The upshot is, he does not mean to get you a position, or even make a decent effort to.
Don't be bluffed. You are just as wise as he is.
A Business College, that is any account at all, can and will agree to get positions for its graduates. Others cannot and will not.
We can place every intelligent and industrious young person we get. We do not accept any other kind.
Now that's fair, square, and sensible, isn't it?
When is the best time to begin?
NOW.

You can begin any time, but you would have the best weather for studying if you would come now.
Would you have to catch up with other classes?
Not a bit of it.
We will take care of you any time you come, and you will not be inconvenienced in the least.
Could you finish by the time school is out?
School is NEVER out. We are in session the year round.
How about books?
For shorthand, they cost $5; bookkeeping, $8; both courses, $13; would the cost of tuition, books and board and room be the total expense?
YES. When this is paid, THERE IS NO MORE TO PAY. THE COURSE IS COMPLETED FOR THIS PRICE, AND POSITION SECURED.
Can one reduce this expense?
Yes, a great deal. We will secure a place to work for board and room where the work will not interfere with your studies in any way. We have plenty of good places for both boys and girls in private homes where they can work for their living expenses while attending school. If you cannot pay your tuition all at once you can pay it in $10 monthly installments. The price is about 10 per cent. more on the installment plan, but you are given your choice. Do not imagine you can't come. If you want a business education we will see that you get it. Write us your circumstances, and we will arrange for your immediate enrollment. If you are honest, we will see you through. Plenty of work here for everybody, and many make board, room and tuition.

The BELOIT BUSINESS COLLEGE is the largest business college in Wisconsin, outside of Milwaukee, and is growing rapidly. Had to treble our quarters this year, and are crowded now. Are going to enlarge again soon. We treat young people right and they have confidence in us. You, too, will have when you know what we are doing.
Beloit is a school town. It has always been known for its educational advantages. Its business college is now doing more for the reputation in its line. Come see for yourself. Don't pay more tuition, more board, and then get less results and be sent out to find your own position.
Our students are sociable. They are not clammy like those of many schools of other kinds. You will be acquainted after the first few hours and you will find this a pleasant and homelike place to be. Our night school is free to day pupils and students may use typewriters, and other equipment outside of school hours. The school rooms are open evenings and Saturdays, and pupils who wish to do extra work are always welcome. Come and investigate conditions and you will be satisfied.
Here are the names of a few of our most recent graduates, and where they are located:

Miss Georgia Gove, Sten. Great Northern R. R. St. Paul, Minn.
Miss Clara Crandall, Sten. National Sewing Machine Co., Belvidere, Ill.
Miss Ellen Peterson, Sten. National Sewing Machine Co., Belvidere, Ill.

Miss Mabel Erbentrou, Sten. Chicago, Ill.
Earnest Cole, Sten. Fairbanks-Morse & Co., Beloit, Wis.
Miss Ruby Nash, Sten. C. Mattison Machine Works, Beloit.
Miss Grace Pohl, Sten. T. D. Woolsey, Lawyer, Beloit, Wis.

The above have been placed in the past thirteen weeks. Those placed in the past year, make too long a list to print here. We will send them on application.
In addition to the above, we have placed four students who merely reviewed with us, and five who were graduates of other schools, which failed to place them.
This ought, we believe, convince you. If not, come and see for yourself.
Remember, it costs no more to get a good business education than you will pay for a poor one. Life is too short to attend more than one school. Attend a good one in the first place, and you will not have to go to more than one.
Sixty per cent. of our pupils leave, or come through cities having business colleges. They would not come here if the same advantages were to be had nearer home.
Write us, or come without writing. Interurban cars every hour from the North. We are on the car line. Tell the conductor to put you off at the Beloit Business College.

Beloit, Wisconsin.

AMONG THE WORLD'S WORKERS

News Notes From Various Sources of Great Interest to the Workingman

Preparations are being made for the resumption of operations at many window glass factories throughout the country, after a suspension of nearly five months. Fires are being started and within the next thirty days thousands of skilled employes and their helpers, who have been idle since last spring, will be back at work.

John Shalen of Dickinson City, was indicted at Scranton, Pa., recently charged with mining coal without having first taken out a certificate of competency. The case is the first of the kind ever brought in that region, and is the result of a crusade of the United Mine Workers to secure a higher grade of workmen in the mines.

Judge Roberts of Warren, O., has granted an injunction against Harmony Lodge, Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers, and citizens of Girard to prevent strikers and sympathizers from interfering with the operation of the Carnegie Steel company's Girard plant.

The lockout of the 300 boiler makers and their helpers in the Erie Railroad company's locomotive shops at Susquehanna, Pa., has taken on a new phase, the company having imported to that place three carloads of 150 non-union men.

Steel workers employed in the rail and sheet departments of the Illinois Steel company's plant at South Chicago have been notified that when the present agreement expires, Jan. 1 next, it will not be renewed. The workmen understand this to mean that they will be asked to accept the same reduction in wages and the same lengthening of hours as were recently enforced in the company's plant at Joliet. The Joliet steel workers accepted a cut of 15 to 40 per cent in wages, and their work day was lengthened about two hours. Nearly 4,000 men will be affected at South Chicago.

After months of consideration the Master Builders' Association of Boston, Mass., has adopted a platform of principles, declaring for absolute freedom to manage, without interference of any kind from employes, the open shop, no recognition of antagonistic combinations, absolute harmony of action on the part of all in case of a strike against any member, the registration of skilled workmen and the right of such regis-ed workmen to conference on grievances.

In the ten years of its existence the Woodworkers' union of Germany has secured reductions in the working hours for about 75,000 members of the craft and has raised the wages of over 52,000 on an average of 10 per cent. In the same period the organization has paid out in benefits $140,000, in round numbers, and expended about $500,000 in support of strike and trade movements.

MRS. POST IS GIVEN DIVORCE

Receives Legal Separation From Millionaire Food Manufacturer.

Battle Creek, Mich., Oct. 29.—Mrs. Ella W. Post, wife of C. W. Post, the millionaire foodmaker of this city, in the circuit court was granted an absolute divorce from her husband by Judge Hopkins. Mrs. Post, who has been a resident of Washington, D. C., for several years, came here two weeks ago to push the suit to completion. The divorce proceedings were commenced April 7 last. They were married in Springfield, Ill., Nov. 4, 1874, and lived together until February, 1892, since which time they have lived apart. They have one child, a daughter born in 1887. The charge in the suit was desertion and cruelty. It is understood that all arrangements for the divorce were completed by the lawyers on both sides, as Mr. Post did not appear and no contest was made. The amount of alimony has not been made public.

STOMACH, BOWELS, LIVER AND KIDNEYS

YOUR HOME DRUGGIST MAKES THE GUARANTEE

This remedy is purely vegetable and easy to assimilate. The doses are small and pleasant to take. It is prepared from the original formula of Dr. Franz Gnuwelin, of Welsbaden, Germany, who was, until his death, one of the world's most successful and noted physicians. Thousands of families for three generations have been recommending this wonderful preparation in the highest terms.
If your digestion is impaired, if your liver is sluggish or blood is impure, "Seven Barks" will surely effect a speedy cure, as it cleanses, flushes and tones up the whole digestive and drainage system in a thorough manner, leaving Nature to do the rest, which it will. We cordially invite our friends and customers to call and get a bottle of this highly meritorious remedy. You may deposit 50 cents for a bottle of "Seven Barks" as evidence of good faith. Try it as directed, and if found unsatisfactory, we will cheerfully refund your money. Or, if you cannot spare the small amount we ask on deposit, come anyway and we will take all the risk. What we want is to introduce this remedy among our friends and customers where it is not known.

Cigar Dealer Takes Old Smoker's Advice...

A few days ago a man who has been a smoker for years and a friend of good tobacco—a fellow who could tell you "straight off" after a few puffs whether the cigar was habana filled or contained some inferior stock—pulled a few contented whiffs on a New Fan Tan and said:

"That cigar is one of the few at 5 cents that I have struck in my lifetime that is genuine, and is really a smooth, sweet, habana filled smoke. One can relish it because the aroma is that unmistakable fragrant habana; the taste it leaves in your mouth is perfect."

Old Smoker advised his friend the cigar man to lay them in a stock at once.

This dealer acted upon the suggestion, and the New Fan Tan Long Havana Filled 5c Cigar is ready for every man of keen appreciation and who really wants a pleasant surprise at 5 cents, in all the leading cigar stands in the city.
